Dear Peter/Dave

RE: Jewell Swamp Trenchless Crossing

We are writing this letter in appreciation of the excellent work that has recently been completed by Trenchless Advisor Pty Ltd., for Eire Contractors.

In late 2008 Eire Contractors was awarded a contract for the Redhead Project by Hunter Water Corporation and part of the project was the trenchless crossing of Jewell Swamp, a SEPP14 classified area.

Eire engaged Trenchless Advisor to provide comment on the type of geotechnical information required, the design of the crossing, the selection of the drilling company and the management of their work, plus overall reporting on the bore.

The Jewell Swamp crossing provided one of the most challenging tasks for the Eire Contractors team. This was due to the lack of geotechnical details surrounding the SEPP 14 area site access and the unknowns in the below ground strata.

Trenchless Advisor was recommended to us by the NSW Dept of Commerce as being expert in this field. We engaged them right from project start and their advice, knowledge and dedication proved the secret to a successful crossing.

When, at a recent Project Review meeting Eire Contractors was highly commended by Hunter Water as having completed the most successful bore of this kind carried out in recent times for Hunter Water, we gave full thanks for this to the Trenchless Advisor team.

Eire has recommended to Hunter Water that with bore work of this nature Trenchless Advisor should be involved from the design stage through to the contractor selection stage.

Directional drilling is an area where Eire Contractors, as a contractor, has to rely heavily on advice from drilling specialists and it was a great pleasure working with the team from

Trenchless Advisor who, at all times, provided a professional approach and dedication to their work.

For all future pipeline work which involves direction drilling Eire Contractors will, where possible, involve Trenchless Advisor from the tender period right through the drilling stage.

Well done, we are pleased to be associated with your organisation.

Yours sincerely
Eire Contractors Pty Ltd
